

Brief Contents

Preface	v
Acknowledgements	viii
Detailed Contents	xi
About the Contributors	xvi
Guided Tour of Learning Features	xx
Guided Tour of the Online Resource Centre	xxii
Introduction: Diversity and Disciplinarity in International Relations Theory Steve Smith	1
1 International Relations and Social Science Milja Kurki and Colin Wight	14
2 Normative IR Theory Toni Erskine	36
3 Classical Realism Richard Ned Lebow	58
4 Structural Realism John J. Mearsheimer	77
5 Liberalism Bruce Russett	95
6 Neoliberalism Jennifer Sterling-Folker	116
7 The English School Tim Dunne	135
8 Marxism and Critical Theory Mark Rupert	157
9 Constructivism K. M. Fierke	177
10 Feminism J. Ann Tickner and Laura Sjoberg	195
11 Poststructuralism David Campbell	213
12 Postcolonialism Siba N. Grovogui	238
13 Green Theory Robyn Eckersley	257

14	International Relations Theory and Globalization Colin Hay	278
15	Still a Discipline After All These Debates? Ole Wæver	297
	Notes
	Bibliography	319
	Glossary	324
	Index	342
		353